

A photograph of a waterfall cascading over large, reddish-brown rocks. The water is white and frothy as it falls, creating a central column of water that splits into several streams. The surrounding rocks are wet and have a mottled appearance with some green moss or algae. The background shows more rocks and a pool of water at the base of the falls.

Romans 03:13 Their throat is an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit; the poison of asps is under their lips:
